in.form

A broadcasting application that enables you to prepare a short message and deliver to hundreds, or even thousands of your clientele through their GSM Mobile Network.

Time and money will be saved tremendously. Conventional marketing channels like putting up an advertisement, may be essential, but huge amount of money, time and effort, in comparison to SMS broadcasting, in artwork, color separation and printing must be spent just to send the message across to your audience.

Moving into the fast-paced era, wireless solution works best! Promotions, seasonal sales or discount coupons can be regularly up-dated to your clientele monthly, weekly or even daily.

An efficient and effective way of keeping your valuable customers within an arm's length almost at all times!
